RE: Part 64 of Title 47 of the Code of Federal Regulations

Dear Mr. Quello:

I realize that this letter will probably reach you too late as, if I am not mistaken, the cutoff date was October 31. However, I was unaware of the activity taking place regarding the FCC's involvement in the 800 service access codes being tolled or non-tolled. Regardless, I feel compelled to drop you this note on the outside chance that the committee may still be meeting on this subject.

I wish to express my Association's strongest feelings concerning the manner in which the 800 numbers have been abused by self-serving companies and individuals having their own agendas. This flies in the face of the traditional feeling of what an 800 number imparts as a message to our guests and the community at large. My Board of Directors and I have particularly noted the comments in Paragraph 3 of the Proposed Rules that I have received (copy attached). We find the truth in these statements to be self-evident and we very strongly support this particular language to modify our existing laws.

I hope that our word is not too late, but I do salute you and your committee for the obvious hard work and purposeful efforts that you have put into this most important subject.

RE: Part 64 of Title 47 of the Code of Federal Regulations

Paragraph 3.

In 64.1504, the introductory text and paragraph (a) is republished and paragraphs (b), (c), and (d) are revised to read as follows:

Common carriers shall prohibit, by contract or tariff, the use of any telephone number beginning with an 800 service access code, or any other telephone number advertised or widely understood to be toll free, in a manner that would result in

(a) The calling party or the subscriber to the originating line being assessed by virtue of completing the call, a charge for the call;

(b) The calling party being connected to a pay-per-call service of any other information service that is not provided in accordance with paragraph (c) of this section;

(c) The calling party or the subscriber to the originating line being charged for the information conveyed during the call except pursuant to a presubscription or comparable arrangement between the information provider and the party charged;

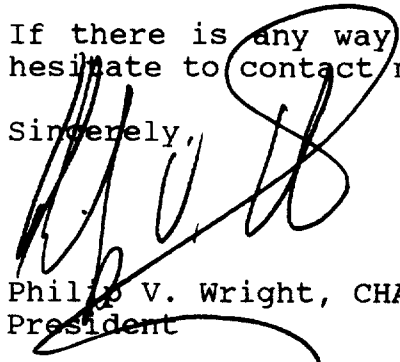

(d) The calling party or the subscriber to the originating line being called back collect for the provision of audio or data information services, simultaneous voice conversation services, or products.
